

No Reason No Rhyme

(The Birthday Song)

Glowing candles' soft flame
As the years fly like arrows
An occasional hit
Less than life should permit
With each one gone forever

And the year turns the page
As the tears pool like mirrors
Can we hope them away
Will the heartbreak of day
Bring a greater horizon

All the young seem to see
Piercing straight to the marrow
Shiny gold buys the joys
Of bad little boys toys
While the rest watch bewildered

No Reason No Rhyme
While justice stands blind
With mercy in kind
No Reason No Rhyme

No Reason No Rhyme
The best left behind
The Light yet to find
No Reason No Rhyme

Let the sun also rise
On the young and the hopeful
Let them carry the torch
While we rock on the porch
In the mist of lost sweet dreams

Drifting just out of reach
On the sea of survival
Though we still hold them dear
And can see them so clear
As the tide pulls them under

And the dream slips away
For the older but wiser
Will they grow through the pain
Will it drive them insane
Nothing's fair in the big game

No Reason No Rhyme
While justice stands blind
With mercy in kind
No Reason No Rhyme

No Reason No Rhyme
The best left behind
The Light yet to find
No Reason No Rhyme

The wicked prosper while the good die young
The peaceful go by the way
Too many heros left with praise unsung
The beaten don't bother to pray

No Reason No Rhyme
While justice stands blind
With mercy in kind
No Reason No Rhyme

No Reason No Rhyme
The best left behind
The Light yet to find
No Reason No Rhyme

The Light yet to find
No Reason No Rhyme

The Light yet to find

Words & Music (c) 1996 Gregor Rice ~ Gregor Rice Publishing ~ BMI
Arranged/Performed by Gregor Rice ~ Vocals by Lori LeFevre Johnson
Contact: Gregor Rice ~ ieshea@frontier.com ~ 260-495-3211 after 12n ET